FLY HOUSE

The Fly family was one of the first families into the Brentwood area. They lived in the southeastern part of the city and built several homes there. They came to Williamson County from the Tidewater of North Carolina. This home was the long time home of John Brown Fly and his wife Lola McCord Fly. Mrs. Fly taught for many years in local schools, including Splitlog and Lipscomb. The house belonged to the Gray family prior to it's being owned by the Fly family. It is presently the home of Mr. and Mrs. James S. Hackett.
